Craftsmanship

- Inspection—especially when backed by critical instrumentation—insures Aerovox Capacitor Craftsmanship.

With Aerovox electrolytics, for example, production is checked from start to finish—from the pre-checking of each constituent material to the checking of completed units. Because of the extra-critical inspection standards, most of the test equipment is designed and built by Aerovox engineers. Hundreds of such exclusive Aerovox instruments (Aerovox capacitance bridge here shown) are in daily use on the production line—instruments seldom seen outside a laboratory—mounting guard at every step from raw material to finished product.

Such outstanding inspection routine, along with skilled and conscientious workmanship and backed by sound engineering judgment, accounts for that widely recognized Aerovox Capacitor Craftsmanship.

this shouldn't happen TO YOU!

Why take chances on getting into the wrong band? Today, with frequency multipliers in practically all transmitters, it is too easy to hit the wrong Harmonic. The positive way to tell which band you are on, is by using an absorption type wave meter.

The New Bud WM-78 Wave-meter covers all amateur bands from 160 to 5 METERS . . . accomplishing this by bandswitching. Due to its sensitivity the BUD WM-78 can also be used as a neutralizing indicator.

$6.90 your cost at your radio supply dealer. He will be glad to give you additional information on this and other Bud products.

BUD Can Supply All Your Needs! . . .

. . . with the latest types of equipment including: condensers, chokes, coils, insulators, plugs, jacks, switches, dials, test leads, jewel lights and a complete line of ultra-modern cabinets and chassis.

Does the Shure Stratoliner Crystal Microphone have a high output level?

The Stratoliner Crystal has an output level of 49.7 db below one volt per bar. This makes it ideal for Transmitters, Recording, and other general-purpose use.

Can the Stratoliner be used for both semi-directional and non-directional pickup?

The swivel head permits pointing the microphone at the source of sound for semi-directional pickup. Pointing the microphone upward, gives non-directional pickup in the horizontal plane. In this position performers can group around the microphone.

What are other advantages?

The Stratoliner Crystal is equipped with a cable connector which permits quick change of various detachable cables. The high output level permits fairly long lengths of cable to be used. Genuine Bimorph Crystal.

Is it as expensive as it looks?

The list price is only $21.35 . . . although its appearance would lead you to believe the price is much higher.

JAMES KNIGHTS "Stabilized" Crystals

Precision Quality for the Amateur!

When building your new rig, or revamping the old one to conform to the new Ham bands, be sure to use JK "Stabilized" Crystals—the crystals that are so carefully made and so perfectly mounted that you can install them and forget about them. They will stay "right on" at any normal operating temperature, and they're not affected by dust, moisture, or vibration. "Stabilizing" is a process that absolutely prevents JK Crystals from frequency shifts due to aging, whether in operation or on the shelf.

RADIO AMATEURS

Two basic parts . . . a coil assembly and a contact assembly . . . comprise this simple, yet versatile relay. The coil assembly consists of the coil and field piece. The contact assembly consists of switch blades, armature, return spring, and mounting bracket. The coil and contact assembly are easily aligned by two locator pins on the back end of the contact assembly which fit into two holes on the coil assembly. They are then rigidly held together with the two screws and lock washers. Assembly takes only a few seconds and requires no adjustment on factory built units.
